Event: 17th State-Level Elocution Competition

Venue: Satara College of Pharmacy, Satara

Three students from D. Y. Patil College of Pharmacy, Kolhapur, actively participated in the 17th State-Level Elocution Competition. The event was organized by Gaurishankar Education Society's Satara College of Pharmacy, Satara. The competition focused on the thought-provoking topic "Social Media and Today's Youth." The students were accompanied by Assistant Professor Ms. Snehal P. Bongarde, who provided guidance and support throughout the competition.

Among the participants, Ms. Apekshya Chitre achieved a remarkable feat by securing the 3rd rank in the competition, showcasing her eloquence and deep understanding of the subject matter. Her achievement highlights the oratory talent and intellectual prowess of the students from our institution.

This accomplishment adds another feather to the cap of D. Y. Patil College of Pharmacy, Kolhapur, further strengthening its reputation for academic and extracurricular excellence.
